Dear Mom & Dad,

May 8, 1968 Wednesday
(DATE)

I've just finished my daily letter to Patty and now I'll drop you a couple of lines. Nobody - and I mean nobody has contacted me since

I've been here. I'm getting more disgusted with each passing day. Mom, there is a writer who wrote about the shame of the FBI in their hiding of evidence in the J.F.K. Investigation. I have read several of the reports he wrote and I think that if you could write to him and mention the fact that I have been framed by various law enforcement agencies he might be able to help. Have him to contact you. His name and address is:

HAROLD WEISBERG, Writer
c/o Dell Publishing Co.
750 Third Avenue
New York, N.Y.

If you can establish contact with him he is the type of person that is not afraid to expose the truth regardless of who it hurts. I am not in a position to write myself because I never know for sure just where I will be from one day to the next. Will you please send me a copy of all correspondence you have regarding me just like you have been doing. I save all of these copies you send because they give me hope. Heaven knows I have little else to comfort me. I would be completely lost without Patty cheering me up and that is the honest truth. Please write and let me know if you have wrote to any magazines as yet. If you have, which ones. I'm sorry I couldn't get a birthday card for dad. We can't even buy candy here! I'll close for now — Give everyone my regards.

Love to all
Charles
